

It seems a pity that Ash Wednesday falls just one day ahead of Valentine's day, one of the prettiest festivals of the entire year. It will utilize the Richmond German to anticipate the Saint's anniversary by several days in the closing dance of their series, to be given Monday night. As favors are to take the form of valentines and supper partners are to be chosen valentine fashion, by lot, the dance will be one of the prettiest of the winter, early looked forward to by society maidens and matrons to whom the sentimental mysteries of the season are a never ceasing delight.

The valentine colors, pink and green, are particularly suggestive of spring-time and youth, blush roses and cheeks that match the rose.

It is as necessary to observe the Saint's natal day, as any of the other annual holidays and festivals that bring laughter to the lips and light to the eyes, and keep the heart young and set old age at defiance.

Valentine's is a name in confiture with for centuries found time to enshrine his memory in the sweetest, tenderest sentiments. They do not forget that the Saint is the patron of lovers and so, for one day in the year the whole world goes sweet-heating, and the vows they make and re-make, rise as fragrant incense to make glad the heart of the Saint in heaven.

Mardi Gras Week.
Miss Flora Randolph Mason, of Fredericksburg, has gone to Annapolis, Md., for the mid-winter celebration there, and Misses Ella Binford and Janie Wingo have been much feted in Lynchburg, where they have been the guests of friends. Looking Ahead.

Miss Madge Freedley will entertain a number of her friends on Tuesday next in her apartments at the Chesterfield Hotel. The party will be held at 1 P. M.

The annual tea of Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy will be given Monday afternoon, February 11th, in the home of Mrs. Hugh Taylor, No. 6 North Fifth Street.

The next night, February 12th, Mrs. Finck, of Philadelphia, will give a splendidly illustrated lecture on "The Wonders of America" in the Hall of the House of Delegates. Mrs. Finck's lecture will be for the benefit of the fund for the Daughters' building at the Jamestown Exposition, and will be under Chapter auspices.

Monday evening St. John's Circle of Kings' Daughters will give a colonial reception in the home of Mrs. J. S. Moore, of No. 2209 East Broad Street. The affair promises to be pretty and largely attended.

The past week has been a very full one from a social point of view. The Tuesday German gave a brilliant dance in Masonic Temple, at which many out-of-town girls were present. Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. W. P. Brock and Mrs. Edwin L. Hewitt entertained at a very handsome reception, given in honor of Miss Helen Stevens and Miss Alice Doyle. The hostesses received with their guests of honor and with Mrs. Floyd Hughes, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Thomas, of Atlanta.

Decorations in parlors and dining-room were in maidenly ferns and daffodils.

Thursday evening the Arcadians presented "The Visiting Girl" at the theatre, and the debutantes gave several suppers and a dance at Belvidere Hall after the play. Miss Helen Christian was the hostess of a most attractive debutante luncheon on Wednesday last, given in honor of Miss Alice Hamilton, of Norfolk.

The week closed with the usual reception at Deep Run Hunt Club House and the afternoon dance at Hermitage Golf Club.

Otherwise the prettiest event of Saturday was the bridge party given by Mrs. Swanson in the afternoon. The decorations were beautiful, and the company both representative and congenial. Refreshments were served after the game. Mrs. Swanson seems as fresh at the end of the season as when it began, and quite ready to enter upon the varied duties that she has to consider in being the Virginia hostess of 1907.

Miss Osterloh Entertains.
Miss Julie Osterloh, of No. 309 West Franklin Street, entertained at supper in honor of Miss Rosemond Thompson, of Andover, Mass., immediately after the performance at the Academy Thursday evening.

Miss Osterloh's guests were: Miss Thompson, Miss Mattie McMillen of Baltimore, Miss Katherine Newell of Norfolk, Miss Roberta Smith, Miss Caroline Reynolds, Miss Elizabeth Prazier, Miss Roberta Trigg, Miss Julia Joyner, Miss Kate Fuller, Mr. R. Lynn Tucker, Professor Leslie F. Watson, and Mr. Ritchie Bacon, will be the accompanists.

Mrs. Arthur Mann, Mrs. Ernest Moore, Mrs. William Crum, Mrs. C. W. Massie, Mrs. Harvey Davis and Mrs. J. S. Moore, Jr., will have charge of the dining-room and will be assisted by the following ladies, who will serve the delicious refreshments: Miss Moinette, Miss Addie Jackson, Miss Annie Nolde, Mrs. Oscar Grover, Mrs. Samuel Frischkorn, Mrs. Hiram Anderson and Mrs. Henry Schmidt.

The following ladies compose the refinement committee: Mrs. D. T. Talley, Mrs. C. W. King, Mrs. Carley, Mrs. William Farrell and Mrs. William Webb.

Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. John Charlton, Mrs. Fred Powell, Mrs. Charles Coleman and Miss Mattie Wood will have charge of the candy, and the ticket committee is as follows: Mrs. J. E. Allen, Mrs. Julian Green, Mrs. Charles Follows, Mrs. Pyke Gary.

There will be no meeting of the circle to-morrow, but on Monday, February 18th, the regular meeting will be held with Mrs. W. A. Cheatewood, of No. 2110 East Grace Street.

Auxiliary to Meet.
The Church Hill Auxiliary, Retreat for the Sick, to-morrow, Thursday afternoon of this week, at 4:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ramon D. Garlin. Twenty-seventh and Broad Streets.

All members are requested to attend, as business of importance will come up.

Committee at Retreat.
A committee will be at the Retreat for the Sick to-morrow to receive money and unsold tickets from those who had in charge the Bostock benefit on Friday last. All having such tickets, and money are requested to report at that time.

Northside Entertainment.
The entertainment which was given at Northside Hall last Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Northside Orchestra proved to be quite a success.

Despite the bad weather there was quite a large attendance, all having declared it one of the most enjoyable and successful entertainments ever presented at the hall. After the program the floor was cleared for dancing, which was kept up until midnight. The program read as follows:

Program.

Annual Meeting.
The annual meeting of the "Williams Memorial Circle" will be held Tuesday, February 12th, at Woman's Christian Association.
The meeting will commence at half-past 4 o'clock.
There will be the election of officers.

Entertained in Erie.
Mrs. George Ambrose Allen, formerly Miss Bessie Hunter, of this city, who now has her home in Erie, Pa., has been most pleasantly welcomed into the society circles of that city.

Mrs. Turner-Shackelford, of Erie, gave a luncheon and card party on Wednesday last, in honor of Mrs. Allen; Miss Winifred Watson was a bridge hostess.

Thursday afternoon for her pleasure, and Miss Marie Selden had a dinner party for her Friday evening. Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Saitman gave a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Allen, and Saturday evening Mrs.

Pinck, of Philadelphia; Mrs. William McMillen, president of the Virginia Division, U. D. C.; Mrs. Drowry, president of Tidewater Chapter; Mrs. G. G. Gory, president of the Chesterfield Chapter; Mrs. J. W. Timberlake, custodian of the Virginia Division; Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor, treasurer of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association; Mrs. Joseph Bryan, president of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society; Mrs. John Hughes, president of Oakwood Memorial; Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson, president of Hollywood Memorial; Miss Isoline Moses, president of Hebrew Memorial; Miss Goldenberg, president of Junior Hebrew Memorial; Mrs. C. W. Massie, president of Junior Oakwood Memorial; Miss Anne Gray, president of Junior Hollywood Memorial; Mrs. William Rufin Cox, president of Woman's Club.

Miss Bettie Ellyson is chairman of arrangements for the tea, and has chosen her own assistants.
The young ladies who will serve tea are the younger members of the chapter. Every chapter member and all visiting daughters are invited and expected to be present. It is always a pleasure to the chapter officers to have the veterans at the annual tea, where they are invited to call in after their office hours and in their business suits.

The kind offer of Mrs. Hugh Taylor of her home as a place for the tea to be held was accepted with appreciation by the chapter, as Lee Camp Hall, where the teas are always given, is now being repaired.

Miss Bettie Ellyson is chairman of arrangements for the tea, and has chosen her own assistants.
The young ladies who will serve tea are the younger members of the chapter. Every chapter member and all visiting daughters are invited and expected to be present. It is always a pleasure to the chapter officers to have the veterans at the annual tea, where they are invited to call in after their office hours and in their business suits.
